

Old Pueblo Mediation Services

Old Pueblo Mediation Services is an alternative dispute resolution service providing a full range of family and business mediation services. Mediation is the process whereby an impartial third person helps disputing parties resolve their differences in a private and confidential setting. Mediation is a low cost, flexible, fast, efficient and completely confidential method of resolving disputes and is increasingly encouraged by Arizona courts. While mediation is neither therapy nor counseling, it is a process whereby both parties are able to explore various settlement options, make informed decisions and realize a positive outcome.

Marie Mendelson Piccarreta, of Old Pueblo Mediation Services, is listed in The Best Lawyers in America in the area of Family Law Mediation. She is an Adjunct Professor at the James E. Rogers College of Law at the University of Arizona teaching mediation, a member of the Board of Directors of the Arizona Chapter of the Association of Family and Conciliation Courts, as well as a past Chairperson of the Alternative Dispute Resolution Section of the State Bar of Arizona. She is an Advanced Practitioner Member of the Family Section of the Association for Conflict Resolution, a national organization for professional divorce mediation practitioners which grants membership to mediators who have satisfied its training, experience and educational requirements; as well as a past President of the Mediation Association of Southern Arizona. Ms. Piccarreta has received extensive and ongoing training in dispute resolution techniques and has been specifically trained as a divorce mediator both locally and by nationally recognized mediators. She has successfully mediated numerous family disputes, including disputes arising from marital dissolution, property division, child custody, visitation, child support and spousal maintenance. Ms. Piccarreta has served as a Pima County Superior Court Pro-Tem Settlement Judge, as well as a mediator for the Arizona Attorney General's Office, Civil Rights Division, the Tucson Association of Realtors, the State Bar of Arizona and the Tucson Community Mediation Program.

Prior to the establishment of Old Pueblo Mediation Services Ms. Piccarreta was an attorney at a Tucson law firm, where her practice included general civil litigation, domestic and probate matters, as well as residential and commercial real property transactions. Mediation is proven highly effective in resolving a wide range of disputes, including disputes arising from divorce.
